American Plum

The American Plum prefers full sun and does best in moist, well-drained soil, not sandy soil.

It is a fast-growing shrub and has a mature height of 8 to 10 feet.

Songbirds and game birds use the plum for food, nesting, and perching. White-tailed deer feed on twigs and leaves.

The plums make excellent preserves, jellies, jams and wine.