

Snowberry

copyright 2010 Andy Fyon, ontariowildflower.com

The Snowberry prefers full sun but can tolerate some shade and does best in moist, well-drained soils.

It has a moderate growth rate and reaches a mature height of 3 to 4 feet.

It is excellent in providing food and nesting cover for birds and small animals. In the spring, the flowers attract hummingbirds, bees and other beneficial insects.